

Professional Supports

As casual members, you are welcome to attend branch meetings. If you are a long-term supply, your branch will be determined by your location of work. If you are a day-to-day supply, your branch will be determined by your place of residence. If you are unsure of your branch assignment, please contact Carlene Parker (carlene.parker@nbta.ca) for further information.

A wealth of information is found on the NBTA and NBTF websites.

www.nbta.ca

Highlights on the NBTA site include a resource section for professional learning, contact information for branches, and the code of ethics.

www.nbtffenb.ca

Highlights on the NBTF site include a section for supply teachers and the collective agreement.

The NBTA newsletter, ConnectED, is published four times each year and is posted on the NBTA website. Hard copies are available by request.
